Attention makes work more beautiful

Our strength

Hebo Solutions Commissioning is based on the strength of our employees and gives customers and employees that little bit of extra attention so that we can work on a long-term relationship.

Recruitment Process

Hebo Solutions Commissioning makes an inventory of the best available specialists for your project. The first selection will be discussed in a meeting to ensure that we have a mutual understanding of the required level of knowledge and experience.

We only have a project interest in a safe manner within the stipulated time which we can only achieve with motivated workers who are our employees. We make people enthusiastic about Commissioning and train them as future talent so that we can guarantee our permanent quality.

Safety

As true safety believers it is easy to convince others that an incident-free workplace is possible. Stressing the importance of one team-one goal & brother's keeper regardless of company.

Our life saving actions program is there to make sure we are ready to execute commissioning works on the most critical equipment.

The experience in reviewing, commenting and approving on E&I design engineering and construction packages shaped our high quality in understanding, identifying and finally taking mitigating actions to prevent the risks.

Your operators know your industrial park like no other. But precisely because of that familiarity and habit, they can develop a blind spot for its security. Perhaps they are unconsciously and unintentionally taking risks. Our employees are independent and have a fresh look at your factory.

HeBo Solutions Commissioning helps companies to completely take commissioning off the hands of the client. We are the link between management and execution. We provides advice and implements it.

Our team

Our HeBo Solutions Commissioning team is responsible for the entire commissioning services lifecycle. Our own shop is equipped with more than 200 test and calibration devices, all certified by a technical inspection organization.

Software

Our HeBo Solutions Commissioning software tool is automated maintenance software that helps you manage your entire asset lifecycle maintenance and perform maintenance functions more efficiently. It is a flexible, easy-to-deploy and easy-to-use solution for managing and organizing asset maintenance for all types of assets.
